Yesterday, in the District Court, totore Judge Sharswood, a case of more than ordinary interest was called for trial, and partially he ard Ldward S. Gamer, chaining to be the assigned of Elias Charles Hichards, brought suit against the American Life Insurance Company to recyere $10,000, the smount of a policy of insurance on the life of Riohards. It was alleged that Richards, in September, 1863, and four months after he secured the Insurance, relited a farm on the Sasquehamma river about two mittes above Havre de Grace, and was negotiating for the phrebase. While thus in the neighborhood he went to the river one cycling, in company with two friends, and insisted upon taking a bath. His friends relited to go hato the water, one because he could not swins, and the other because he had not smilled confidence in his skill as a swimmer to centure in twenty-five or thirty feet of water. Richards went in, and siter swimming about for five minutes, returned to the rath from when how one hundred yards from the shore, eried for help asserting that he was select with the crump. Of course he did not mean to pay revenue duties on the whisky.

There are in this city places where clay stills can be bought, they cost about one hundred dollars, we are told, and the loss, if they are con discated, is of course so light that one day's successful running will more then pay for it.

There is a min in Ohio who was, fivey are soo, worth less than a thousand dollars, and who is now worth a million. He is a whisky distiller yet, it is noterious that honorable inch enjugged in distilling, have met with serious losses, and there is a general complishe that a distiller who pays the Government tax can of make a living. In 1860 almost willing allions of whisky were manufactured in the United States, in 1860 the Government collected the tax only only on four teen millions. Yet there is reason to believe that over one hundred and fourteen million gallons were made in that year, and there is reason to believe that the Government lost nearly two lundred million dollars tast year by frauds in the blaky manufactured into.

It was our own good fortune to witness at tochester, Buffalo and Dunkirk, the outpouring addressed to one of our townsizes, written by fitse people to got a glimpse of one of the party which left New York on the premose military men of the country. We were quaker City on the 8th of June last, laying in of the people to get a glimpse of one of the foremost military men of the country. FALL AND WINTER STOCK the feeling styled hero worship, as a sincero de sire to see the chieftaln who had shown himself equal to every emergency in which he had been blaced. It is a satisfaction to know whether the countenance reveals those qualities that have made one famous. Sheridan's face is certainly emarkable. There is a perfect compound of relentices determination, power of execution and sound judgment. In stature he is far below the nedlum, being only about five feet three inches, or a little less.

In Rochester the Ryon Zonayes, and a compa lowed up-overwhelmed-by the rushing, crowdgathered in front of Congress Hall. It was easy to point out those to whom the sight of the Gen eral brought back visions of Mission Ridge, the buttles of the Valley, and the crowning engagement of Fire Forks.

in the body-guard of Sheridau, while at Con gress Hall, we noticed Major Moore of the 8th N. Y. Catalry, Republican candidate for Sheriff of Monroe county, Brigadier General Charles J. Powers, 108th N. Y. Vols , Democratic candidate for Clerk of Mouroe county; Colonel William 11. Benjumin, Sth N. Y Cavalry; Lieutenant Colond E. M. Pope, same regiment; Colonel Pierce, 110 N. Y. Voinnteers; Captains Sullivan, Cramer, Frost and many others who had served under "Little Phil." One of Sheridan's staff remarked to us, "show Sherldan a private soldier, white or black, who has done his duty, and he would ex. end to him the grasp of friendship as quickly as o those who had worn shoulder straps or stars.

New Jersey have just set a good example to their brethren of the whole country. At a late meeting they resolved to reduce the fire to two cents per mile to make tickets good until taken trp by the comductors; to usue local commuta tion lickets at low rates, to encourage local trave and transportation; to encourage produce commission business on their lines; to imitate the English tailways in the mutor of carrying and delivering parcels, and thus present the exter-tions practically express companies; to encrease the facilities for the transportation of freight, etc. and to make 'no further attempts to control

All this is proper, especially the resolve iss named. We have but little it my faith, however, that this resolution will be adhered to, especially in New Jersey. The other reforms and change promised will probably be carried out. The reduction of the fare to two cents per mile ought to be made. All the railroads in New York carry passengers at this rate, and there is no rea-base tried to my satisfaction; the poetry is all son why those of New Jarsey, Pennsylvania, and out of it for mr. There are oil wells in this other States should not do the same. It would he well to make this uniform rate atl over the

we hall every one, proposed as an indication that all the needed ones will soon be made The fact that our people are becoming familiar with the superior railroads and railroad management in Rarope, and are telling what they know on this subject to the American public, is doing much to produce inprovements in the bulding and managements of rollways in this country. We need roads that will bear a higher rate of speed than can safely be had over those we now have. We need greater vigitance and care to the overseeing of our roads; by way of our milways should pass over or under the ways which they cross, and many other things in the way of change or reform are necessary to the greater speed, safety, and comfort on our sooner the necessary changes up again, and it is not unlikely will become a of the reilroad managers in New Jersey as a hour of devotion the Mussulmen are called to sign that our railway business will not long re-

The Ohio Election-General Hayes after

On Thursday night last the political friends of General Hayes, the successful Republican candilate for Covernor of Ohio in the late election, drow out from him a speech. From a report be fore us we make the following quotation :

drew out from him a speech. From a report be fore us we make the following quotation:

One word us to the issue. The Union party have been in fivor at maintaining inviolable the fulth of the ration. They will continue to stand on that plank to the end. [Cheers] They be lieve that the national credit was an important part of the national power, in its last struggle, and the good name of the nation is, under all circumstances of the nation is, under all circumstances of the maintained Asyla, it is probable, from the complexion of the Lepisteure, that a three filths vote cannot be obtained to submit again the colored saffage issue for many years to come, and therefore cannot be in cursus before the people for a long time. In the meantine we shall have the experience of other States in the matter. But on this you may rely, that the Union Republican party will be in the future as it has been in the past—this party in favor of giving to all governed an equal volce in the Government, and sithosph it is defeated this year, we remember that in 1802, in the very pinch of the war, we were beaten in Obio, Pennsylvan and Other States, by molorities for larger than any given against us this year. And we remember also in 1803 our majorities were without parallel in the listory of the country. In the or year, the great year of the Presidential election, will see us again united with 5,000 majority in Hamilton county and 50,000 in the State of Obio.

struck with the peculiarity of the ovation to view a trip to the coasts of the Mediterranean Sheridan. There did not seem to be so much of voyage, among which were General Sherman, Beecher, Maggle Mitchell and others, but some-how they "failed to connect!" The company numbers, however, about eighty, hailing from all parts of the country, including seven persons from the city of Cloveland. No section has as yet happened to any of the passengers. The steamer, at last advices, the 7th instant, was at Alexandria, in Egypt, bound for Gibraltar, having made the circuit of the Mediterrapean and the Black suas, landing at Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Rome, Aslia Minor and Palestine, visitny of the Light Guards, both veterans of the 140th and 35d New York Vols., turned out to secort him, but the two companies were swal- garnized for so extensive a field of observation, ing, eager thousands who filled the depot and expeditions and enterprises of a similar char-

DEAR . The steamer left here on the 19th for the Rus sian coast, expecting to be back here by the 24th, and then we were to sail for Smyrna; but up to this date she has not returned. Mr. Washburn one of the missionaries here, went up in Mr Bullard's place, but returned by another vessel, reporting all right, for the sie moor. The party were going to see the Czar of Russis, who was at Yalta We have pretty much done up Constantinople, and are quite ready to depart. 1 am wearted with the jargon; it is worse than Bedam, the street cries make my cars sche. We have made some very pleasant visits among the missionaries-Dr. Schanfler and wife, who live at the Bosphorus, about six miles, at Burbeck; Mr. and Mrs Washburn, who live opposite, at Kurdalli, and down the sea of Marmori, Dr. and Mrs. Riggs The Dr is busy translating the old Tes tament. We have also met two or three mission aries who have just come out, Miss Norcross and Mrs. Haldwig. They were the ladies who had such a rough time on the coast of Ireland, their vessel being taken for a Fenian ship.

The bazines are the brightest features of the enty; the mosques are dingy affairs; outside of the city the country is as barren as a desert for around. The Turks are awfully shiftless in their habite, and do everything in the harder way. We saw them working on the road with wooden shovels, plowing with wooden plows, and making brick by hand. We do not see so anch of Oriental costomes as we were led to exof the Torks dress in the American style, with the exception of a red fer (cap); the Turkish ladies need not be quite so particular to veil their faces, for those we have seen are anything but The population of the city is over a million, but the adjucent towns are embraced in this estimate. We visited Scutori to see the nerormances of the Howling Dervishes, which were very comical. We were obliged to take off our shoes before entering the place of religious wor-stop. The Dervishes sit upon sheepskins on the floor, and rock their bodies from side to side, chanting or shouting at the same time, for the period of fifteen tamutes. Then they change heir position, standing up, and budding forward making a right-engle with their lower limbs, swaying from side to side. The high priest sits upon a pintorm at the end of the room, and the Dervishes kiss his hand before they take their dages in their ranks. The exercises close by plucing little children on the floor flat on their facts, the Dervishes walking over their backs. The walls of the rooms are covered with Turkish and Arabic inscriptions, and lang with tambornes. There was an unpleasant eder of dirty feet in the hall, which we were glad to excep-

The Fire Department of this city is in a rather crude state. A signal tower tells in what locality the fire is; the engine is about as large as a washing machine. The firemen wear nothing but pants, and when running, present a rather pen appearance; the water is supplied in a leathern jug by water carriers, of course, they never put out a fire, and many spots in Stamboul mened over. The famous Turkish bath I country, in Moldavia, but they are not of much account, because there are no refineries. The Christian missionary cause makes slow progress If the Turks sae all to be converted first, it seems o me that the millenieum is a good way off We paid a visit to the mosque of St. Sophia; we took assage in a very fine calque, which you will understand to be a small rowing boat, with crim on cushions and escopy, and two Turks so oars nen, dressed in white except their red fez.(esp) Crossing the Golden Horn, we took a Turkish carringe to St Sophia. This famous califice was commenced in the reign of Constantine, before the establishment of the Mohamedan religion. and was centuries in building. It is in the form of a Greek cross, with a circular dome over the centre, and four semi-circular ones; four or five minarets were added to convert it into a mosque These are very slender, pointed towers, near the top of which are one or more circular galleries from which at proper
